MAIN MENU

Andrew & Danny along with their team welcome you to The Walton Arms.

As the only pub in the village of Altham and the present building over two hundred years old its walls hold plenty of history and could surely tell a tale or two.

The original parts of the main building started life as a coaching inn named The Black Bull with its location on what was at one time a main route between Yorkshire and Lancashire, although it is told that the site has been home to a hostelry since saxon times, when it was on the pilgrimage trail to nearby Whalley Abbey.

It is thought to have changed names in 1820 as a compliment to the then Lord of the Manor - Mr. R. T. Wroe Walton.

Today, as a team we pride ourselves on our excellent food and drink offering - with a mouth-watering selection of home-cooked traditional dishes amongst other modern favourites and a wide selection of cask, craft and branded beers, wines and spirits. There's something for everyone.

At a time where options of places to visit are vast, we Thank You for choosing to dine with us and hope that you enjoy your visit.

We offer full table service in our dining room, so sit back and relax - we will come to you!

Although our staff can guide you through our menu and point out dishes that may be suited to your diet, we cannot recommend or guarantee that any single product or part thereof is completely allergen free.

Although every effort is made by our team to preserve the integrity of all dishes within our menu, we operate in a multi-purpose kitchen environment in which every allergen is present throughout food service times.

All of our food is prepared and cooked in a kitchen where nuts, gluten and other allergens are regularly present.

We may be unable to accommodate the dietary requirements of those who suffer with any food related allergy.

Only food that is supplied, prepared and cooked by us can be consumed on these premises.

We cannot cook/reheat any other food produce.

We hold no responsibility for any items consumed that have not been provided by The Walton Arms.
